and Boston Public Schools—Work Ready Boston

Did you know...

Each year in Massachusetts, about 900 students transition from high school often unprepared to make real choices for a real life in the real world?

If you have a child with a disability approaching the ages of 15 to 21, this transition conference is an important opportunity for you.

Begin the transition planning process early and stay on schedule. Strategize now and prepare for a full productive life during and after high school.

Two action-packed days are filled with information and resources that will support you to understand your role, rights and responsibilities in the transition planning process.

We will offer follow up workshops on topics that participants identify as priorities.

The goal of this transition conference is to establish a statewide network of proactive, knowledgeable parents working in partnership with local schools to develop transition teams who will:

- ◆ Assist students to create a vision for high school and beyond.
- ◆ Identify necessary assessments to achieve that vision.
- ◆ Design supports & services that work!
- ◆ Explore student's special interests & provide innovative opportunities in school and in their community.
- ◆ Advance skills to prepare for post secondary education or successful employment opportunities.
- ◆ Encourage, support and celebrate all students!
